CONDEMNNS COVERT THRUST AT MILES

Williams, Answering Hay and Hull, Says This Is Not Time 'Nor Way to 'Get Even.'

MOTION, HOWEVER, IS LOST

Question of Government Finances Arises in Connection With Postoffice Bill.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 31.—The treatment by General Nelson A. Miles of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy, during the time he was a prisoner at Fort Monroe, Va., was recalled in the House to-day when Mr. Williams, of Mississippi, the minority leader, tried to secure the adoption of the Senate amendment to the House provision regarding retired officers serving with the State militia. Messrs. Hull, of Iowa, and Hay, of Virginia, both members of the Military Affairs Committee, endorsed the House provision, making it retroactive. The latter declared it was Democratic doctrine to save money and for that reason called upon the Democrats to stand by the committee. Mr. Williams's motion to agree to the Senate amendment, which does not make the law concerning retired officers retroactive, was lost—71 to 171. The bill then was referred to committee.

The postoffice appropriation bill was debated for an hour, but its consideration had not been concluded when the House adjourned.

Williams Loudly Applauded.

Mr. Williams, in his reply to Messrs. Hay and Hull, said that he was not at all afraid of the covert attack on his Democracy.

"I am not," he said, "afraid of my loyalty or fealty as a Southerner. I dislike so much to stay under cover that we might as well come out. I share the feeling that Southern men generally entertain regarding General Miles's conduct when he put shackles upon the ankles of Jefferson Davis, and I do not believe it will sound in history to his credit or that it will sound in history to the discredit of Mr. Davis, that he was compelled to submit to it, old and helpless, and also as he was at the time. If this legislation had been pointed at anybody else than General Miles—a Democrat appointed by a Democratic Governor under those circumstances and believed by me, rightfully or wrongfully, to have that motive behind it—I would have taken the same course that I have taken, except that I have taken it much more anxiously and much more warmly. I stand in the relationship to Jefferson Davis that some of my critics do not. First, he was a Mississippian, and I am one. My grandfather was the senior captain of his regiment in the Mexican War, and his father, in the Civil War, was a general. He was my friend as far as an old man can be a friend of a child or boy. If you want to punish General Miles or anybody else for what was done in those days, if history is to hold out its condemnation, all right, but this is not the time, nor the place, nor the way to do so. The people of the South do not punish in little ways like that."

Mr. Williams was loudly applauded on the Democratic side.

Government Finances.

The postoffice appropriation bill aroused a discussion on government finances in which Mr. Littlefield (Maine) asserted that if appropriations were kept at their present rate, there would be a deficit of $30,000,000. Mr. Frazier (New York) would permit himself, in reply to questions by Messrs. Minor (Wisconsin) and Gaines (Tennessee), as to whether the House would pass a public building and pier and harbor bill, but said that the present session would be brought to close with appropriations for the next fiscal year. He said he would be within the government's income.

Against Women.

Mr. Slomp is not in accord with the general sentiment of his party in advocating the appointment of women to postmasterhips. A Republican from Richmond, in conversation at the Elbitt House this week, expressed the opinion that every time a man secured an office for a woman he made enemies of a number of voters. "Women cannot vote, and they cannot work for a candidate," was the summing up of the grim old bachelor, who has suffered many political defeats.

Assistant District-Attorney John Blair.

Mr. Blair, his wife and his brother, Hon. Robert Blair, were in the city to-day on their way to Baltimore, from which port they will sail for Jamaica, to be gone a month or two. It is said that in case Mr. Summers is made District Attorney, of which there is strong likelihood, Mr. Blair will continue to be the assistant.

BEGINS SEARCH FOR MISSING MIDSHIPMAN

Government Refused to Accept Resignation of Young Man, Who Then Disappeared.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The Navy Department has instituted a search for Midshipman Milton W. Arrowood, who has been absent without leave from his station on the battleship Kearsarge for several weeks, and the department has applied to the young man's father, who lives in North Carolina, for information on the subject. "The case is a most unusual one. For private reasons the young man desires to leave the navy. He tendered his resignation a short time ago, but the department refused to entertain it on the ground that the government having educated him, is entitled to the benefit of his services for a few years at least. It is intimated that when the young man found he could not get out of the navy in a regular way, he returned to his home in North Carolina, where he is now said to be. Midshipman Arrowood passed the requisite academic course and has nearly completed the regulation two years' service at sea prior to final graduation. In case he fails to return to his station he will be dropped as a deserter."

SWANSON WANTS JOINT DEBATES

Hopes He Can Meet Willard on Stump and Discuss Issues Before Public.

MAKES VIGOROUS REPLY

Declares Record Does Not Show That the Lieutenant-Governor Ever Offered Amendment.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 31.—Mr. Swanson, when shown Mr. Willard's letter of yesterday, said he had no desire to prolong the newspaper controversy, but in justice to himself and also to Mr. Willard, he would make a short additional statement. He said that he had examined the House Journal and can find nowhere that Mr. Willard ever offered an amendment to the employers' liability bill. When the bill was passed by the House of Representatives, the 21st day of January, 1898, and Mr. Willard voted against it, he continued, the House Journal does not show that at that time Mr. Willard offered any amendment. When he voted against it on the 2d of February, 1898, Mr. Willard offered no amendment to the bill.

"The statement of Mr. Pillow that he offered the amendment as contained in his report is incorrect," said Mr. Swanson, "as the House Journal does not show that Mr. Willard offered such an amendment."

"I cannot see how Mr. Willard could have been injured by the failure to mention that he offered an amendment as claimed, since the Journal shows that he offered no such amendment. This statement in reference to Mr. Willard appears in the Journal to be as untrue as the statement with reference to myself. The record does not show that Mr. Willard ever offered an amendment to Mr. Willard's bill, as claimed. If such was offered, it seems to have been simply a request made of him to Mr. Reddy, and when refused by one member of the

SUMMERS WILL GET MOORE'S JOB

Slomp Said to be Supporting Him for District Attorneyship of Western District.

CONGRESSMAN AS LEADER

Not Handling Reins as Skillfully as Democrats Feared He Would.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., January 31.—It is believed that Lewis Summers stands an excellent chance of appointment to the position of District Attorney for the Western District of Virginia. Mr. T. L. Moore, of Christiansburg, the present attorney, is an applicant for re-appointment, but Mr. Summers is making a hard fight, and there are signs that he will win. Mr. Slomp is said to be backing Mr. Summers. There is no break between Mr. Slomp and District-Attorney Moore that is visible to the public eye, but Republicans of the Southwest and Virginia generally know that there is not the best of feeling between the two. Mr. Moore refused to have anything to do with the recent conference of Republicans held in Roanoke, at the suggestion of the President, for the purpose of selecting referees to make selections of candidates for Federal appointments in Virginia. It is hardly to be expected that the referees so selected will endorse Mr. Moore. Mr. Summers is very close to Mr. Slomp, and the latter's son, Mr. Bascom Slomp, who has just been chosen State Chairman, has selected Abingdon, the home of Mr. Summers, as his headquarters.

Slomp as Leader.

The appointment of Mr. Moore in the first instance was personal. He is a connection of Admiral Robley E. Evans, of the latter's son, Mr. Bascom Slomp, who has just been chosen State Chairman, has selected Abingdon, the home of Mr. Summers, as his headquarters.

NATURE'S WAYS.

HOW TO TURN A STRAIGHT FURROW.

A farmer is known by his furrows as the carpenter is known by his chips. It takes a firm hand and a true eye to turn a straight furrow. No wonder the farmer wears out, in spite of exercise and fresh air. One day's work on the farm would tire many a trained athlete. The farmer works the hardest of all, but exercise does not kill any one. Any sickness which occurs in the farm-house is usually due to bad drainage, ill-ventilated rooms and poor nourishment in the food. Dr. Pierce, before he founded the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y., practiced extensively in farming districts, and found that the ills which occurred were often due to greasy foods, fried cakes and vegetables, fried porks and steaks, with too much grease, and many indigestible things consumed, very often without proper care in eating slowly. As a consequence indigestion follows, and after that, as the blood does not get the proper nourishment from the food eaten, the farmer becomes sick. Plants live by direct absorption of vitalizing elements taken in through their roots and leaves. In almost the same way man lives by absorbing the vitalizing elements taken from the food in the stomach and throwing it into the blood stream. Why does not the farmer treat his own body as he treats the land he cultivates? And after that, in ploughing when he takes out his crops, or otherwise the land would not be exhausted. The farmer should put back into his body the vital elements exhausted by labor. If he does not he will soon complain of poor health. In the same way that the earth yields food for the farmer, so does it provide remedies for human ills. Thousands of farmers throughout the farming districts of the United States know the value of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is Nature's most valuable and health-giving agent, made without the use of alcohol. It is a concentration of nature's vitality as found in the fields and woods. The great value of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is its vitalizing power. It gives strength to the stomach, life to the lungs, purity to the blood. It supplies nature with the substances which she builds up the body. Just as the farmer supplies vitality to enrich his fields, so does the stomach which is replenished and stimulated with a blood tonic like this "Medical Discovery."

"If the channels and arteries contain a swift, active flowing stream of blood, the germs of disease causing malaria, typhoid, gripe, or pneumonia, cannot find a lodging place. They are swept out of the system. In this way, by making rich, red blood and clearing all the poisons from the blood, we are protected against disease," says Dr. R. V. Pierce, consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. With the object in view of finding an alternative extract which would do this he discovered a medicine made from roots, herbs and barks, which would invigorate and sustain the system by its tonic action upon the stomach. The proper mineral elements are taken from the food, which go to make up rich, red blood. It is also for this reason that persons who are run down, exhausted, or weak after sickness, or great brain work, are built up, and put on flesh to their healthy standard.

Mrs. R. J. Hall, of Roxboro, N. C., writes: "I suffered nearly two years with jaundice and indigestion; in fact, my health failed completely. I tried everything for relief, including several doctors. Did not improve, but grew steadily worse and was given up. Was unable to do any work, even for night (after sundown) was blind, so that I would walk against chairs, etc., in room with lamp burning brightly. My husband finally wrote to Dr. Pierce, and under his advice, I began taking his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Am happy to say that after taking six bottles I was cured. All my friends who saw me when sick and see me now, wonder at the result of your great and grand remedy. I was cured. They all, doctors included, had had all hope myself. I feel that I owe my life to Dr. R. V. Pierce and his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I recommend it to all my friends, and to every one suffering from similar ailments."

"I will gladly send a testimonial of my friend's case," writes Miss Edna L. Goodhue, of Andover, Mass. "He was very sick with typhoid fever, for three weeks. All my friends who saw me when sick and see me now, wonder at the result of your great and grand remedy. I was cured. They all, doctors included, had had all hope myself. I feel that I owe my life to Dr. R. V. Pierce and his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I recommend it to all my friends, and to every one suffering from similar ailments."

"I will gladly send a testimonial of my friend's case," writes Miss Edna L. Goodhue, of Andover, Mass. "He was very sick with typhoid fever, for three weeks. (After sundown) was blind, so that I could not walk against chairs, etc., in room with lamp burning brightly. My husband finally wrote to Dr. Pierce, and under his advice, I began taking his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Am happy to say that after taking six bottles I was cured.
